PROSPECTS FOR SANATORIUM.
Noank May Be Site for New Institution Is Reported.
Mrs. Ross Chapman of Hyde Park, Mass., is at Noank at the home of her brother and it is reported that part of her visit is to look over the possibilities in building a sanatorium there. The building of such an establishment is one of Mrs. Chapman's pet plans. It has been suggested that nowhere, perhaps, in New England could so admirably a site be secured as on the Prospect hill, where the scenery both will add to the restoration to health of the patients.

NORWICH NAMES ON OLD LIST

To be Presented to Connecticut Historical Society—Subscription Paper For Fourth of July, in 1858—Found by Son-in-law of David Moore, Formerly of Norwich.

Writing in the Hartford Times, Charles F. Gladding of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, formerly of Norwich, describes a document that has signatures of Norwich men of prominence. It is a subscription list circulated by the father-in-law of Mr. Gladding, the late David Moore, of Norwich, for a Fourth of July entertainment to be given by this town in 1858. Although 56 years old on July 4, the paper is in a good state of preservation. Mr. Gladding found it recently among the effects of his father-in-law and will present it to the Connecticut Historical society in Hartford.
The paper is dated June 17, 1858, the persons whose names are attached subscribed for a Fourth of July entertainment for the benefit of the citizens of Norwich and surrounding towns, raising almost $400 for that purpose. The paragraph that makes the appeal is as follows:
"The undersigned considering that an exhibition of fireworks on the plain the evening of the fourth day of July next will not only be pleasing to our own citizens but a pecuniary interest to our city, inasmuch as it will afford an entertainment to our inhabitants and induce our friends from the neighboring towns to spend the evening with us and their money which they may choose to spend in town in going farther from home."
"We therefore agree to pay the several sums affixed to our names, to carry out the above proposed entertainment."

Dated, Norwich, June 17, 1858.
The list of subscribers is headed by such a notable as the late William A. Buckingham, the famous "war governor" of Connecticut, who subscribed $20. Others who subscribed $20 or less, and who were of prominence in their day in their town, state and nation, according to the list, are: William A. Buckingham, James Lloyd Green, John Breed, David Smith, James L. Day, Hunt Adams, W. T. Greene, $10; Blackstone, Edmund Perkins, Henry Bill, Calvin C. Rawson, Lee & Osgood, John A. Rockwell, $5; John G. Huntington, John W. Stedman, Frank Johnson, John D. Foster, Henry W. Birge, Jeremiah Halsey, Colton W. Ruggles, T. B. Norton.
"100 Gun" Greene.
The above, says Mr. Gladding, were some of the most prominent men of Norwich's history and many of them figured in every branch of life, not only within the bounds of the city, but in the nation as well. James Lloyd

MARCELLA HALL IS PROBATION OFFICER PROBLEM
Found Asleep in Railroad Station at New London.

Marcella Hall, who had a partially filled half pint bottle under her head, was fast asleep on a bench at the Union station at New London Tuesday morning when Patrolman T. C. Sullivan found her. Probation Officer Mansfield recognized Mrs. Hall as one of his charges. She was before the last term of superior court on a charge of assault and had been placed in his custody as a probation officer. After the arrest of the woman a pocketbook was found on the floor of the station containing $1.45 and was returned to the woman.
Mrs. Hall's status under the law is a quandary to Probation Officer Mansfield. One superior court judge has instructed him that if a probation officer, while pretending to go into a station, the person could be taken to jail and a mittimus secured. Another judge has instructed him that the law provides that the probation officer should be removed from office. The next term of court is on May. Mr. Mansfield is in doubt how to hold the woman until the next term of court unless she is arraigned in police court and committed to jail for her latest offense.
Marcella is well known to the police officers of this city.

NEW MEMORIAL STONE FOR WASHINGTON MONUMENT
Secured by D. A. R. Chapter—On Exhibition at Hartford.

The tablet for the Washington monument at Washington, D. C., carrying the arms of the state of Connecticut and intended to replace the disintegrated slab of red sandstone now marking the position of the state as one of the original 13, was exhibited at the capital lobby, Hartford, and will remain there until May 1, when it will be packed and shipped to Washington. It will be inserted in the monument by the engineers corps of the United States army, which has charge of the public buildings of the district.
The stone was secured through the efforts of Orford chapter D. A. R. of Manchester. E. L. G. Hohenbuth of Manchester, on a recent trip to Washington noticed the condition of the slab of Portland sandstone, and called the attention of Orford chapter to the matter. After some correspondence with Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin, the chapter went ahead and bought the stone. The agreement amount obtained by Orford chapter from the other chapters of the state was $72.50. As the stone costs $150 delivered at Washington, it will be the duty of Orford chapter to raise the balance of $77.50.

General Birge.

John W. Stedman was a prominent newspaperman who achieved success outside of the newspaper business also. Stedman published the Norwich Aurora, a paper now out of existence. He was a factor in the state's politics and after his journalistic experiences became the insurance commissioner of Connecticut. Another prominent subscriber was Lafayette S. Foster. He was the senior United States senator from Connecticut at the time President Lincoln was assassinated and during the days immediately following the tragedy Senator Foster was acting vice president of the United States.
Besides literary men, politicians, journalists, bankers and manufacturers, military men were also on the list. Among these was Henry W. Birge, general in the war of the Rebellion, who served with distinction during the strenuous times of 1861-1865. Jeremiah Halsey was a noted lawyer whose reputation was statewide.
Was a United States Consul.
Henry Ruggles, a retired business man, served the national government in the capacity of United States consul at various stations and held an atmosphere of dignity to the posts. Mr. Ruggles was first consul at Barcelona, Spain, and later at Malia. Following his services in the interests of the United States, Mr. Ruggles spent 13 years in world-wide travel. He also acquired reputation as an author, and a book from his pen, "The German People," is Germany Seen Without Spectacles.
